

Supporting Students with Caring Responsibilities

Target Audience: All staff who work with students in a teaching and/or support capacity.

Description: The Scottish Government has published 'Caring Together' and 'Getting it Right for Young Carers' which together form 'Caring Together: The Carers' Strategy for Scotland 2010-2015'. The emphasis is on helping carers to manage their role with confidence, in good health and to have a life of their own outside caring. College Development Network is supporting this agenda through the development of a range of awareness raising resources relevant to those working within the college context. We developed this workshop in partnership with young adult carers who shared their experiences with us through a series of video case studies. These resources will be made available to colleges.

Aims:

Through case studies and testimony from young adult carers participants will:

- identify the range of issues and barriers faced by students with caring responsibilities
- be more aware of how to meet the needs of students with caring responsibilities
- identify changes in practice in order to support students with caring responsibilities
- be aware of resources available to colleges

This training meets the criteria for the Equal Partners in Care (EPiC): Core Principles for achieving better outcomes for carers and young carers, Level 1: Carer Aware.

Notes for trainers

Timing: This session is planned to last approximately 3 hours including a 15 minute coffee break. Alternatively you may wish to have short breaks at the end of sections 1 and 2. Time allowances within the notes are notional but try to manage participant input to ensure a range of views are covered.

Preparation: As the facilitator, make sure you are familiar with the video and the names of the young adult carers in the video. Feel free to customise the materials to manage time or to ensure their relevance to your own context.

Training points: This workshop deals with an emotive subject within which individuals may want to share personal experience. It is important to acknowledge contributions but at the same time ensure that this doesn't inhibit the flow of the workshop.

Slide 8: using clips (2, 5, 6, 7) can be delivered in a number of ways, depending on what you think will suit the group or how much time you have. Approach 1: Pause between each clip and ask participants to highlight what particularly struck them about the points made in the clip and ask them to note their points on the Activity 1 Worksheet.

Or Approach 2: Show all three clips and then ask the participants what particularly struck them about the points made in the clip and ask them to note their points on the Activity 1 worksheet.

Slide 14: Activity 2. A range of topics are suggested. Choose the one which you feel is most relevant to the group and make copies of the relevant Activity 2 worksheet.

Materials:

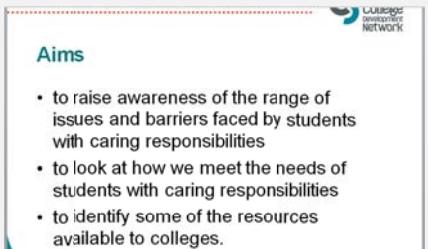

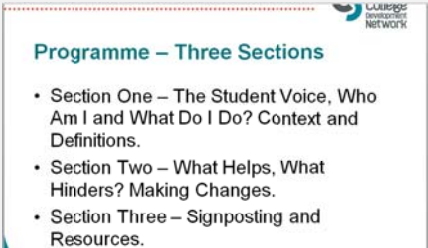

Presenter

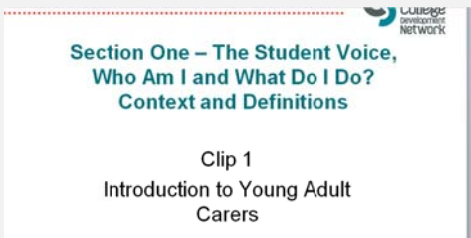

- PowerPoint presentation on USB or downloaded to PC
- DVD case studies
- Case study ethnic minorities
- Flip chart and marker pens
- A4 paper and pens
- Post it notes

Participants

- PowerPoint presentation in notes form 3 slides to page
- Activity 1 worksheet
- Activity 2 worksheet appropriate to the topic chosen e.g. creating a positive, welcoming and supportive image.

Possible answers

Clip 2 - Experience of School

- Negative experience, attitude of staff
- Issues not understood by staff
- Missing large chunks of school
- Late e.g. isolation, not making friends, an outsider
- At school worrying and anxious
- May come to college with a negative, if not angry view of education

Effect on learning might be things like a negative attitude toward authority and teachers, under developed literacy skills, under developed learning and social skills. Isolation from the learning process.

Clip 4 - Health and Wellbeing

- Stress
- Tiredness
- Mental health, depression
- Lack of confidence
- Unfit
- Improved health and wellbeing by
 - going to gym
 - attending carers' group
 - Counselling at college
 - Listening to music
 - Being with friends
 - Going to college
 - Having time to myself

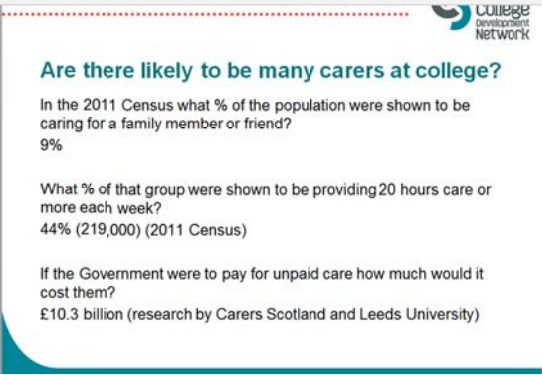

Effect on learning might be poor attendance due to ill health, tired in class which in turn affects listening and processing skills. However student may be more aware of health and need to build in time in gym or time for relaxation etc.

Clip 5 - Skills

- More positive
- Patient
- Matured faster
- Don't rush into things
- Self aware
- Independent
- Organised
- Communication skills
- Can deal with professionals
- Confident
- Good at looking after others
- Helpful
- Resilient
- Caring
- Self efficient

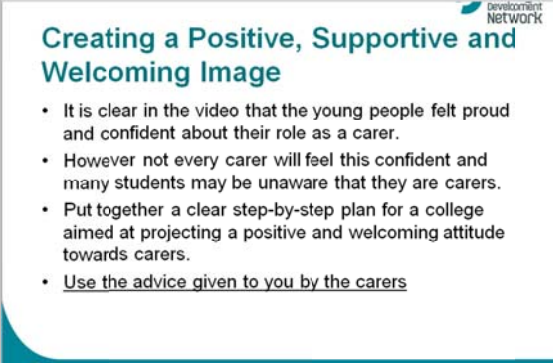

Effect on learning may be that the student is better organised, self-aware, resilient, independent etc.

Slide 9  To demonstrate to participants that it is highly likely that colleges will have high numbers of students with caring responsibilities.	 These questions are intended to give you an idea of the number of carers in Scotland. Question 1 – Pose question 1 to the group, take a number of suggestions before putting up the right answer. Continue with the next two questions. ? Ask participants for their reaction to the numbers. Explain that because of the high numbers it is highly likely that colleges will have significant numbers of carers, so any improvements in support for carers is likely to impact on a large number of students. At this point you may also wish to remind participants that any improvement in support for carers is likely to benefit all students.  Before we move on to section 2 there are a number of other important points that need to be made to complete the initial picture. One of these is to think about the issues we should be made aware of when supporting carers from minority and ethnic groups. ? Are there any issues that you can think of that are important to keep in mind? Take two or three answers before highlighting the slide. If participants are struggling to find examples prompt them with the case study provided “case study ethnic minorities”.		Case study ethnic minorities	5 mins

Slide 10 	These issues were highlighted to us by MECOPP, a project in Edinburgh which works with Minority Ethnic Carers of Older People. It is important to be aware of cultural issues that may exist for students with caring responsibilities from minority ethnic communities. We cannot be aware of all cultural issues but need to be aware that there may be cultural issues. Run through the points highlighted on the slide and invite comment.
Slide 11  to raise awareness of protection issues that may be associated with responsibility for caring for someone	? What protection issues should we be aware of when dealing with students with caring responsibilities?  <ul style="list-style-type: none"> All colleges have policies and procedures in place in relation to protection. We need to be aware that young carers or vulnerable adults may possibly be being placed in inappropriate caring roles. As with all protection issues your concerns or the incident should be recorded and referred to the College's Protection Officer. 			5 mins

Slide 17  To introduce participants to other resources available	 The Carers Trust website is very useful and contains a great deal including information on Carer's Assessments. All carers can request an assessment which provides the carer with the opportunity to explain to social services what support might make caring easier for them. It's a good idea to make connections with local organisations; they may already be supporting students who are at, or thinking of coming to college. They will also be keen to come into colleges' open days, volunteer fairs or even maybe set up something like a carer information point. Some colleges also have protocols with their local councils and other organisations.			7 mins
